Scandinavians Feel Teuton Aim
Is to Earn Hatred of the Entire World

LONDON, Feb. 20.—The Anglo-French fleet is again trying to force a passage through the Dardanelles. A statement issued by the British admiralty this afternoon says, "Our combined fleet yesterday bombarded the fortifications in the Dardanelles. The forts on the European side were silenced. The action continues today."

"The combined fleet is under command of Vice-Admiral Sackville S. Carden."

"The entrance to the Dardanelles at Cape Helles and all the Kumkale forts were bombarded with long-range guns. It is plain that a great amount of damage was done to the forts."

"Our guns outranged theirs and before noon our vessels closed in, the forts on both sides of the Dardanelles opening fire."

"Among the vessels engaged were the inflexible, Agamemnon, Vengeance, Cornwallis, Triumph, Suffer and Bouvet."

"Night caused a suspension of the bombardment, which was renewed today and still continues."

LONDON, Feb. 20.—A Rheims dispatch to the Exchange-Telegraph says a powder magazine on the Asiatic side of the Dardanelles was blown up today as a result of the bombardment by the Anglo-French fleet. One of the forts is reported destroyed and many of its garrison killed.

Germany Trying to Get
Whole World to Hate Her,
Is Idea of Norwegians

LONDON, Feb. 20.—A number of British newspaper men, returning from Holland and Norway, declare today that the people of those nations seem to believe Germany is deliberately launching a campaign to make the whole world hate her. The theory in Norway and Holland is that the ruling powers of Germany plan to place her in a position where she may say she's unable to fight the whole world.

Therefore, it is said, Germany is anxious to have Italy and Roumania take an active part against her and to have the United States bitterly protesting against German methods.

BACHELORS AND CATS TO BE TAXED IN JERSEY

TRENTON, Feb. 20.—Bachelors and cats will stand in jeopardy if two bills pending in the present legislature should receive favorable action by the solons. The former will be affected in a financial way, and the felines face extinction as a species in very short order if the measure is placed upon the statute books of New Jersey.

Assemblyman Ostrom, Democrat, introduced the bachelor bill, which provides that all unmarried males over the age of thirty years shall pay an annual tax of $50, provided, however, that they are earning at least $50 a week.

A Republican, O. H. Hammond, is responsible for the contemplated war on the cats.

He has put in a bill which calls for licensing at $1 a head. The sponsor of the proposed law wants to eliminate the hundreds of stray animals that prey upon young game, such as rabbits and birds.

Assemblyman Singer would establish a State Board of Barbers to regulate that trade, legalize boxing in this state, and permit the playing of baseball on Sundays through bills he has introduced. Senator Egan would also legalize all sports on Sundays.

Senator Hutchinson of Mercer would abolish the death penalty as capital punishment, and substitute life imprisonment at hard labor.

Among the other interesting propositions before the present legislature are the bills to compel the reading of the Bible in the public schools; permitting the hunting of deer with dogs; reimbursing convicts for state road work at the rate of 50 cents a day, the money to be given to dependent wives and minor children, and increase the bill to compensation to workmen for the loss of a thumb or hand incurred while engaged in work.

U.S. TO STAND UP FOR RIGHTS; MAY MEAN ARMED NEUTRALITY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Armed neutrality was whispered late today as a possible answer to Germany's and England's refusal to yield to America's demands.

One of the highest officials of Washington declared the time has come when the government should not parley further.

A strict "soft pedal" order was given all department heads today, but from usually well informed quarters it is learned the government intends to quietly prepare to maintain its rights.

The government will stand firm in its determination that Germany shall not harm American lives or property in the war zone.

Official information to this effect was given the United Press this afternoon.

The charges and counter charges in the English-German hunger war will not swerve the United States from its present firm stand.

DARTMOUTH VS. BROWN
PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 20.—Dartmouth and Brown resumed athletic relations today after eight years lapse. The break resulted from a ball game in 1907. Today's event was a dual meet.

OUTLOOK FOR HARBOR NOW IS BRIGHTER

—KETTNER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Representative Kettner has finally secured a hearing by the Secretary of War on the plea of Newport Beach to have the harbor lines fixed. This was recommended by the local engineer officer, but it was disapproved by the chief of engineers. Kettner went into the matter fully before the Secretary of War and he feels very optimistic regarding that official's decision.

In order to emphasize her tendencies Miss Sanda will wear the uniform of a German officer; that is, she says she will. She believes Germany is right in its position on the war and she will do all she can to prove this to those who will go to hear her lectures.

PEACE FORCES WILL MEET TO PLEAD WAR'S CLOSE

CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—To secure a cessation of hostilities, to ensure such terms of settlement as will prevent this war from being but the prelude to new wars, and to place the future peace of the world upon securer foundations—these are the far-reaching purposes of the Emergency Federation of Peace Forces, which will hold a gathering in Chicago on February 27 and 28.

In a call for this meeting, sent to all parts of the country, the following questions are asked:

What can America do to stop the war?

What shall be the terms of peace?

How shall a lasting peace be secured?

It is in an endeavor to solve these questions that the meeting, which is to be a national congress of all persons interested in securing peace, and not only for members of the Emergency Federation alone, has been called. Nationally known speakers will address the gatherings.

18,000 "JITNEYS" TO BE PUT IN SERVICE BY FORD CO.

CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—Public Service Commissioner Ferry today declared the Ford Motor Company of Detroit is planning to operate 18,000 "jitney" buses in Chicago and other cities. ## SAN FRANCISCO IN GALA DRESS JUBILATES AS $50,000,000 FAIR DAZZLES ALL WITH SPLENDOR

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—The Panama-Pacific International Exposition opened its doors to the world here today. The mandate, throwing wide the gates, came direct from President Wilson at Washington, over the new transcontinental telephone line. The mandate was in the form of a congratulatory message and the president's voice carried splendidly over the three thousand miles of wire. An electric megaphone then carried the president's words to every part of the 645 acres covered by the Exposition and the big show was on.

President Wilson was unable to be here in person to participate in the historic celebration of the completion of Uncle Sam's mighty waterway, but he was represented by a member of his cabinet—Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane, a California product.

The crowd attending the opening ceremonies came from the four points of the compass. Exposition officials estimated that 500,000 people would pass through the turnstiles before the end of the day. It undoubtedly was the largest crowd ever to attend any exposition on its opening day.

Today's celebration was not confined to California alone. Factory whistles and bells in scores of cities and towns throughout the United States joined with other noise making devices in letting the country know that the Panama-Pacific Exposition was open and that San Francisco and California were ready to entertain the people of both hemispheres.

Two years ago President Charles C. Moore promised that the exposition would be completed in every respect on the opening date and he fulfilled his promise so far as the exposition proper was concerned. The landscape work was complete, the courts and buildings finished and the exhibits in their places. The Zone, the exposition's amusement place, is the biggest thing ever attempted in its line. There is still some work to be done on the amusement buildings, but this work will be completed, according to the contractors, within two weeks.

The Pacific Coast battleship fleet opened the day by booming a 21-gun salute. This was the signal for hundreds of other craft in the harbor and the clamor continued for nearly an hour. The guns of Presidio forts also joined in the demonstration and every factory whistle in the bay district tooted continuously for thirty minutes. Every street car and church bell and every automobile horn in the city also contributed to the noise making. Scores of drum corps and bands went about the city awakening the citizens at dawn. All San Francisco was awake and dressed by 7 o'clock.

The greatest parade in California's history preceded the exposition's opening. More than 250,000 persons participated, marching along Van Ness avenue from Market street to the exposition gates. The parade started promptly at 9 o'clock and representatives of all the nations exhibiting at the fair were in line. The local Japanese and Chinese colonies alone had more than 1,000 men, women and children in

LITTLE BOY HURT
BY SHOT FROM GUN

Lloyd Manderscheid, aged four, son of S. H. Manderscheid, was injured when he was accidentally shot in the back by his brother, Russell, aged nine, Thursday evening in the garage back of the Manderscheid home, four miles southwest of Santa Ana. Russell was handling a shotgun and, pointing it playfully at his little brother, said, "I'm going to shoot you." The gun went off and three or four shot lodged in the little boy's back. The lad was taken to a physician in this city and the shots removed. Reports from the Manderscheid home today were to the effect that the boy was rapidly recovering.

CELEBRATE DAY

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 20.—Practically every patriotic and fraternal society here participated in the monster parade and celebration today commemorating the birthday of George Washington. The parade terminated at Independence Square where exercises were held in which local school children sang patriotic songs and addresses were made by prominent citizens.

The celebration was held today instead of Monday in order that members of the various societies would be able to turn out in full forces.

PRESIDENT, THROUGH SEC. LANE, SENDS WORD OF CONGRATULATION TO CALIFORNIA'S BIG FAIR

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—At the opening of the Exposition Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane said: "This morning I received from President Wilson the following telegram: 'Please convey my heartiest congratulations to the authorities of the Exposition and express my hope that their brightest expectations for its distinguished success may be more than realized.'"

Mr. Lane continued: "Within a month I expect the president himself to be with you to greet the representatives of the nations who have joined in the creation of this new city by the Golden Gate. I come as a token-bearer to speak the feeble foreword to the rich volume of his admiration for your courage, enterprise and genius." Further on in his speech, Secretary Lane eulogized the pioneer, saying: "In blue and gold, in scarlet and purple, in the green of the shallow sea and the burnt brown of summer hillside, he has made the architecture of centuries to march before the eyes of his sons in column, colonnade and court."

THIRTY-FIVE MAY GET AWAY IN VANDREBILT

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—If Hughie Hughes succeeds in getting all the drivers entered in the Vanderbilt Cup Race to sign releases to his entry blank so that he will be able to drive the Ono car as a post entry there will be thirty-five cars to start, the greatest field ever to get away in any Vanderbilt race and the greatest ever to start in any American road race with the exception of the Panama-Pacific grand in 1913.

Harry Grant will pilot a Case racer as team mate to Eddie Hearne. Grant is under contract with the Maxwell team but his car failed to arrive from the east. Bob Burman was originally slated to drive the Case but complications arose and Burman was dropped from the list.

The drivers will be allowed to change tires any place on the course with the exception of the turns.

The racers are to be passed by overtaking cars, which have the right of way, on the right. Though this is contrary to all road-race regulations and road rules, the decision was reached at a meeting of the drivers held yesterday afternoon on the exposition grounds.

The pits were built on the right side of the course in order to give the spectators a better view. It being dangerous for the pilots to pass on the left and cross over to the pits, the rule was made that all passing cars are to be steered clear of on the right side.

As at Corona, the race will be started from scratch, the cars making a lap of the course and then taking the flag for a fast getaway.

Heavy showers prevented practice yesterday. The course will be open for practice tomorrow morning from daylight until 9 o'clock. A few of the drivers were out Thursday afternoon between 5 and 6 o'clock but were unable to try their cars out to their satisfaction.

Huntley Gordon of Los Angeles has arrived with his Gordon Special and "Spider" Campbell, also of Los Angeles, will ride as his mechanic.

SPLENDID PICTURES BLESSED BY PRIEST OF FRANCISCANS AFTER ELOQUENT SERMON

Following an eloquent sermon at St. Joseph's Catholic church in Santa Ana last night, a splendid group of pictures of scenes in the life of Christ were blessed by Father Theophilus, head of the Franciscans of St. Joseph's church of Los Angeles.

The occasion was one of unusual interest and devotion for the members of the local Catholic church. In churches of that faith throughout the world the "stations of the cross" are pictured, and through the efforts of Rev. Henry Eummelen, pastor of the Santa Ana church, the local congregation now has at its church an unusually fine group of pictures. They were painted by M. Ravehstein of National City, a man of much talent and training in Christian art.

The pictures were given high praise by Father Theophilus, a man who has traveled a great deal and who is learned in the arts.

He declared that he had never seen pictures of the stations that appealed to him as being better, and he declared that through them the congregation's devotion to the example of Christ should be the more pronounced.

The visiting Franciscan's sermon was listened to by an audience that filled the church. His subject was: "The Life of Our Lord." The speaker stated that people in general admire the miracles that Jesus performed in curing sickness, in recalling the dead to life, controlling the elements, changing water into wine, commanding evil spirits to depart from the body of man and all of these manifestations of the physical power of Christ.

"Why should we admire all these?" asked he. "Was not Christ God, who made all things and had dominion over all things? We admire Him in His transfiguration when His garments were made white as snow and His face shone and God said, 'This is my beloved Son in whom I am well pleased.'"

"But the Son of God hid all His glory. He had no need of a resurrection, as his body could know no corruption and in His ascension and occupying a seat at the right hand of God, He had come from Heaven and was but returning to His rightful position and as His Heavenly Father said, 'Sit Ye at My right hand, till I make Thine enemies Thy footstool.'"

"Instead of admiring all these things in the life of Christ, we should rather admire His humility. He laid aside all His glory and came to a life of misery, born in poverty and lowly surroundings, where He lived for thirty years, never seeking power nor glory."

"Humility is the entire foundation of the Christian structure and without it the house is built upon sand. The next thing to admire in Christ's life is his poverty. He whom the Heaven of Heavens could not contain had no place whereon to lay His head. This is a virtue which we should imitate, give up the things of this earth, dividing them with the poor, for the riches of earth will pass away. And we should remember that all these things are the occasions of sin and 'What doth it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?'

"The next trait to emulate in the life of Christ was his great love for us, insignificant beings, but He became man for us. He left His Heavenly glory to seek and save us, like a good shepherd, placing us upon His shoulders and carrying us back into the fold, from which we have strayed. His great love is brought home to us in His terrible suffering and death. By one act of His Holy will, by one sigh, one word, one tear, by one drop of His sacred blood, this world and hundreds of worlds might have been redeemed and we be made children of God and heirs of heaven, but this did not satisfy. He must suffer ignominiously, cruelly, on the wood of the cross, give His life and the last drop of His blood. Greater love no man can show than to die for his friend, and we were not Christ's friends, but His enemies."

"And in return for this great love, among the ways best to show our appreciation there is no more appropriate than to follow Christ on the way of the cross, to show our sympathy and love. There is no other devotion more popular than this to inflame in our hearts true love and enkindle true sorrow. This will bring untold graces on both individual and parish and no other means so helpful to the souls in purgatory."

Father Theophilus made a plea to the people to make a resolution to mortify all their evil inclinations and to take up the cross and follow Jesus along the rocky way.

Following the eloquent sermon, Father Theophilus impressively blessed the magnificent pictures, assisted by Fathers Eummelen and Neusius, the artist and his assistant, J. Maas, who is one of his talented students. The congregation then participated in the beautiful devotions of the stations of the cross, which was followed by Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. Miss Elizabeth Easton rendered two beautiful solos, assisted by the choir. The stations of the cross takes place every Friday evening during Lent.

COMMITTEE WORKS FOR CIVIC CENTER

Anaheim Herald: The committee of ten working on the improvements to be made by this city in the near future met yesterday afternoon at the city hall. J. J. Dwyer, chairman of the committee, called the meeting to order and in a short time the members were debating on the best plans for Anaheim.

Several ideas were brought forward as to the best way to handle the civic center problem so that all persons in the city would have a chance to know each move made by the committee. After some discussion it was decided that the best results and the most satisfactory plan would be to appoint the committee of forty additional members from among the most capable persons in each ward, taking into consideration an equal number from each faction, no matter whether they favored the civic center or not.

This, it is expected, will get ideas from each ward in the city and at the same time give each person interested a chance to get definite information regarding the moves made by the committee and the decisions of the fifty members of that committee.

The committee decided to put men and women on the committee who are favorable and also unfavorable for the civic center so that everything could be worked out to a harmonious ending and the whole people have what they want at the end. The names of the men and women mentioned for the additional forty members yesterday will be made known as soon as it is certain that they will act.

AMUSEMENTS

At Clune's
Jim Gresham, owner of the Nelly Davis Mine, is approached by a scheming capitalist, Carson Baylis with his friend Martin to sell the mine under pretenses that he is taking a great risk due to government regulations. Jim, knowing the courts had decided in his favor, flatly refused the offer.

Baylis, with a party, visit the Cobalt district to look over the ground. During the visit one of the party, Alice Chandler, while sketching, is caught in a terrific storm. Jim offers the hospitality of his little hut. The dam breaks, tearing houses from their foundations, and ripping mighty trees from their roots.

Breaking down a door, Jim, with Alice, float down the raging cataract until reaching a large tree. He chains himself to raft and tree, Martin, realizing the danger, goes to the rescue on horseback.

The party once safely on land, Jim is again approached to sell, but refuses. Several years later Martin has become the friend and partner in Jim's bank which Baylis attempts to break.

The news reaches Jim while at a party. Seeking a means to get to New York, Alice's brother offers his yacht. During the voyage Baylis purchases the yacht and forces the captain to put to sea. Jim in desperation compels Baylis to enter a hatch, which he closes on him while Martin, at the point of a revolver, directs the yacht. Jim reaches New York in time to save the bank and claims Alice as his prize.

"Peck O' Pickles"

Kolb & Dill, who have been termed the Weather & Fields of the West, will be seen here Wednesday at the Grand Opera House with their splendid organization, including Nana Bryant, Percy Bronson, Miss Horner, Miss Hills, Geo. M. George, Thos. Rolfe and others and a beauty chorus par excellence, in their latest and greatest success, "A Peck O' Pickles." As C. William Kolb would say, "To cut a long story on the bias," "A Peck O' Pickles" shows Kolb and Dill at their best, allows unlimited opportunities to every member of their fine organization, gives the chorus better chances for a display of beauty, ability and pulchritude, than any former Kolb and Dill production. The German comedians are seen in the roles of Adolph Schlitz and Rudolph Busch.

Temple Theatre
A hand-to-hand combat, in which George Belvan, the noted actor, is set upon by a gang of thugs and knocked senseless to the sidewalk, is one of the thrilling scenes in "The Italian," the big five-reel feature production of Thomas H. Ince, in which Mr. Belvan will be starred.

The fight takes place when Beppo Donnetti (Mr. Belvan) starts home with some money with which to purchase pasteurized milk for his infant son. The toughs follow him and waylay him in a dark alley. On the screen the fight lasts fully five minutes, and Mr. Belvan, an athlete, is seen battling desperately against his assailants. A number of the biggest men at Inceville were used in the scene.

Tonight will be your last opportunity of seeing Mary Pickford in "Cinderella." Come early and avoid the rush.

Tomorrow the Temple will again show "Les Miserables" in nine reels, and on Monday, Tuesday Wednesday Geo. Belvan in "The Italian." Don't miss this.

FIREARMS STOLEN A YEAR AGO LOCATED IN JAPANESE STORE

Anaheim Herald: Deputy Sheriff F. B. Kern left this morning for Los Angeles to recover some of the guns taken from the Kern Cycle Company store on January 14, 1914, when the store was broken into and about fourteen six-shooters and a number of flashlights were stolen.

Kern was called by the office of the sheriff at Santa Ana this morning, saying that the guns had been found in a Japanese store in Los Angeles and asking Kern to get a warrant and go up and identify the goods.

Between 4 and 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon the house occupied by Mrs. Hennig and Mrs. Fitzgibbon on South Vine street was entered by persons and the food supplies of the two families were taken without the consent of the occupants of the house.

S. W. Price has been named by the newly organized Bolsa Improvement Association to represent that body at the meetings of the Associated Chambers of Commerce. Price attended the meeting of the Associated Chambers at Yorba Linda, and advanced the idea that the best way to dispose of the $240,000 surplus of the good roads bond fund was to put it in the various roads funds of the county so that each district would get to use some of it.

of the Organization Are Spoken For

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 20.—Preliminary steps were taken Wednesday evening for the formation of a Y. M. C. A. Club in Huntington Beach to include young men between the ages of sixteen and twenty-five. The numerical limit of the club is fourteen members and more than half of the memberships have already been spoken for before the organization. The club will consist partly of high school boys and partly of young men employed in the stores or offices of the town. The meeting Wednesday evening was held at the home of Cecil McCoy and was presided over by Secretary Brown of the county association. A number of these clubs are in operation over the county and much interest is being shown in the work which is attempted. Weekly Bible study classes are the central feature with athletic, educational and social committees to look after those phases of the work.

An Illinois society was organized Wednesday evening at the home of C. W. Warner, corner of Tenth and Orange streets. Arthur E. Paine was elected president. Mrs. Reuben Catching and Mr. M. E. Helme vice presi-

MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry,
Avoid Exposure and Eat
Less Meat

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water, and above all take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid.

Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.—Advertisement.

TARIFF HITS PORTO RICO

Serious Effect of Sugar Tax
Shown on Revenue and Prosperity

The first annual report of Governor Yager of Porto Rico, who was appointed by President Wilson in the latter part of 1913, has been made public in Washington. The outstanding feature of the report is the ill effect upon the revenues and the prosperity of the island caused by the reduction of the sugar tariff. The very first sentence of the governor's report announces that the period which it covers "has been one of financial difficulty and economic readjustment." On this subject he continues:

"Amongst the general causes for business disturbance, those that affected Porto Rico most were the new tariff law of the United States and the general recession in business activity which seemed to be felt all over the civilized world.

"But far more important to the external commerce and general economic condition of the island were the changes that have taken place in the sugar industry, which holds by far the most commanding position in the industrial life of Porto Rico. The serious decline in this industry which showed itself in the figures and tables of last year's report, has continued in a still more marked degree this year. While this decline was not wholly due to changes, present and prospective, in the rates of duty, it nevertheless reflected itself very seriously in the figures of external commerce and general conditions of trade for this immediate year.

"In external commerce there has been a decrease in the total value of exports of $6,000,803 from the figures of last year, which is almost exactly accounted for by the decrease in exports of sugar, this having amounted to $6,378,823. This decrease in value of sugar exports was produced by a sharp decline both in quantity, which was about 62,000 tons less than last year, and in price, which was $6.43 per ton less than the year previous. Outside of sugar there was a slight increase of about $378,000 in the value of exports. Exports to the United States reflect accurately the decline in sugar, falling off $6,115,443. The total exports were $43,102,702.

"Internal business, while slowly adjusting itself to the changes made necessary in the sugar industry, has naturally assumed a conservative and waiting attitude which has prevented the inauguration of new enterprises. The dread of the possible results of the free-sugar provision that is impending under the present tariff law has tended to check progress and developments in other lines of business interwoven with this industry; but the situation has demonstrated the general soundness of the actual business of the island, for while progress has been checked, only a few overextended and badly managed enterprises have actually come to grief.

The treasurer's report, which is published as an appendix to that of the governor, shows in some detail the causes of the "financial crises" confronting the insular government to which Governor Yager refers. The treasurer points out that, "due to the generally unsettled business conditions of the island, attributable in a large degree to the present reduction and prospective removal of the tariff on sugar, it soon became apparent that the increase in revenues was going to be far short of the increased provisions for expenditure." The report shows that following the reduction in duties by the Underwood tariff law the customs revenues of the island, which had been averaging $80,000 to $90,000 a month during the previous two years, fell to $50,000 a month during the first half of 1914. The failure of the revenues to meet the expenditures of the insular government necessitated a bond issue of $1,000,000. The continuation of existing conditions will make it necessary to curtail heavily the expenditures for education and internal improvements in the island.

The important part played by the sugar industry in the material welfare of Porto Rico is shown by the figures of exports. Out of a total valuation of exports amounting to $43,000,000 during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1914, sugar alone constituted over $20,000,000. This was the lowest sum realized for sugar exports in five years. Under normal conditions sugar constitutes two-thirds the total value of all exports.

A significant sidelight upon conditions in the sugar industry is given by a statement in the report relating to the sugar experiment station in the island. This had been maintained by the Sugar Producers' Association, but on account of the depression in the industry the association found it impossible longer to bear the expense of its maintenance and turned it over to the insular government as a gift, transferring lands and equipment valued at more than $80,000.

The report discloses very serious conditions in Porto Rico, and indicates that, with the final removal of the tariff on sugar and the crippling of the sugar industry from which most of the revenues of the island are derived, directly or indirectly, the insular government as well as the people will face a condition of actual bankruptcy.

OIL EXHIBIT PLACED IN CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

An interesting exhibit of oils has been placed with the Chamber of Commerce by the Union Oil Company of California. The exhibit consists of seven jars, containing samples of crude oil, engine distillate, kerosene, gas engine oil, gasoline, auto oil and steam cylinder oil. The display is very effective in demonstrating to visitors to the Chamber of Commerce the resources of the oil industry in Orange county.

DENVER MAN KICKED BY HORSE AT NEWHOPE

NEWHOPE, Feb. 20.—Leo Jacobs, a brother of Louis Jacobs, of Denver, Colo., was kicked by a horse he was leading Sunday evening and received injuries which necessitated his being taken to the Santa Ana hospital by William Ward. At last reports Jacobs was resting easily at the hospital and will soon be out again.

On account of the overflow of water from the river it was necessary for a time to use a by-path alongside the road running through here but a ditch dug by William Ward drained off the water and the road is again in good shape.

Good attendance and enthusiasm marked the progress of the local Sunday school.

Mrs. Fowler, mother of Mrs. Dave Jesse is having a great deal of trouble with her eyes.

MANY VISITORS TO COMMERCE CHAMBER

More visitors are coming to the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce at present than at any previous time in its history, and Secretary Metzgar states that the people who are visiting the exhibitions at the Chamber are of the class who are really interested in the county and really intending to locate in this district.

One hundred and twenty people, in two different cars, visited the Chamber of Commerce yesterday morning on the Triangle Trolley Trip.

Besides the visitors on the trolley excursion there were about twelve people who were sent here by J. P. Smith, Orange county representative at the San Diego Exposition, and by Mrs. Winifred Bryan, Orange county representative at the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. Several of these people expressed their intention of visiting other sections of the county.

ONE HUNDRED BOYS PRESENT AT GREAT Y. M. C. A. MEETING

The second monthly conference for the leaders of the County Y. M. C. A. Boys' clubs was held Thursday night at the home of E. M. Brown, county secretary.

Seven different communities of the nine in which Y. M. C. A. work is actually being done and more than one hundred boys enrolled in Boys' clubs were represented by the fourteen leaders present, some of the men coming twelve or fifteen miles for the conference.

The subjects discussed were, "Maintaining Discipline During the Club Meeting and On the Playground" by Glen Tidball of Santa Ana, who is conducting the second club to be organized in the county. Martin Warren talked on "The Social Hour Following the Club Meeting." He spoke briefly on the need for the hour of recreation, the opportunity it gives the leader to get in closer touch with the boys and then outlined a number of games that he has used and found successful. Thomas L. Clay of Stanton, spoke on the subject of "Preparing and Teaching the Bible Study Lesson." He emphasized this as the fundamental feature of the club work and showed how it can be used in a very vital way to change not only the ideals of the boys, but the habits of their daily life.

It was decided at this meeting to hold two banquets followed by conferences in Santa Ana, one for the younger boys of the clubs and one for the high school boys and young working men who are now enrolled in these groups. State Secretary W. D. McRae was present and added a number of suggestions for meeting the difficulties that are encountered.

Those present at this conference were Glen Tidball, Martin Warren and T. B. Kelly, Santa Ana; Thomas L. Clay and Cec Wellman of Anaheim; George B. Key and Ralph Wood of Placentia; George Steidinger, Malcom Wharton and Arthur Anderson of Garden Grove; H. F. Hartmann and C. E. Ritter of Buena Park; Robert Leighton, Old Newport; E. M. Brown, county secretary, of Santa Ana.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Lustre and Abundance

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhance its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.—Advertisement.

RURAL SCHOOL SUPERVISION

State Board of Education Believes It Adds Efficiency to County Schools

One of the most important innovations projected for the school system of California by the State Board of Education is that of rural supervision. It is provided in Senate Bill, No. 452, introduced by Senator Anderson of Orange county, and in Assembly Bill, No. 1, introduced by Assemblyman Scott of Tulare county. These bills are the result of the close examination made of elementary schools by Dr. Margaret Schallenberger, commissioner of elementary education, during the past year. The bills provide for the reorganization of county boards of education and a salary for certain members, who thereby become supervising assistants under the direction of the County School Superintendent.

The method of arranging for this supervision is briefly as follows: The county board of education is made to consist of the County Superintendent of Schools and four other members appointed by him from a list of names approved by the board of supervisors. The County Superintendent may then appoint from the four persons thus selected one supervising member for the first fifty teachers, and one supervising member for each one hundred additional teachers, or major fraction, employed in the school districts of the county not having supervising principles. Thus any county with from 101 to 200 rural teachers would have two supervising superintendents to visit and assist country schools and teachers.

The compensation for supervising members is fixed by the board of supervisors and shall not be less than the average paid to teachers of the eighth grade or more than three-fourths of the salary of the county school superintendent. In no case shall there be more than four supervising members of the board of education and expenses while attending meetings of the board of education. No supervising member shall hold less than a full grammar grade teacher's certificate, and where there are one or more high schools in the county, one member of the county board of education must possess a high school teacher's certificate. The salaries shall be paid out of the same fund from which the county school superintendent is paid.

The vital need of such supervision of rural schools as is provided in these measures is succinctly stated by Dr. Schallenberger in her annual report to the State Board of Education, from which the following excerpts are taken:

"It is obvious that the most widely attended school of the people will always be the elementary school and many of the states most intelligent and worthy citizens—indeed, many of its most valuable leaders in all fields of life's activity—will receive no other technical education than that which it affords."

"Expert supervision of (rural) teachers is imperative. No individual in any field of activity who works alone, receiving neither help nor suggestion nor recognition, does his best work alone. In addition, the rural teacher needs training in her work. It is passing strange that we should be getting the best service from a teacher when we put her as far away from public opinion and expert supervision as possible. Even a good teacher does not know enough to fulfill all her task when thus isolated."

HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderrine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After a few applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.—Advertisement.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

Washington's birthday would, of course, be more generally and tumultuously observed if it came at the height of the baseball season. As it is, for many years little notice has been taken of it other than by a few patriotic societies. At present the schools seem to be making more of the public holidays, and very commonly have some suitable recognition of this anniversary.

Teachers may well talk to their children on the lessons to be learned by every young person from Washington's marvelous persistence and courage. The difficulties which he had to confront must have seemed, at the time, to people of ordinarily good judgment, as hopelessly appalling. He was constantly being defeated by the vastly superior troops of the mother country. He constantly faced the disaffection of his hungry and ragged and unpaid troops. Political intrigue in Congress and the army threatened to undermine his authority and discipline.

One can well imagine that Washington's friends must often have advised him against the hopelessness of such an unequal contest. They must have counseled him to seek the best peace possible before he ran any further chance of being captured and exiled or executed for treason.

Most people give up their larger ambitions, after a failure or two, and jog along in some regular routine for the rest of their lives. It is perhaps the most comfortable way of living, but not satisfying to people who have ideals.

A WRONG POINT OF VIEW

In governmental affairs we hear entirely too much talk of my state, my district, my county, my ward. What right has any political subdivision of the country, the state, the county, the city to be preferred against the interests of the whole?

Fortunately the interests of one section are usually the interests of the whole—but not always. And unfortunately the "pork-barrel" policy of the national legislature affords shining precedent for the same tactics all down the line—sometimes even to school trustees.

This idea of district or sectional representation is all wrong.

Members of Congress whether of the Senate or the House are members of the NATIONAL Congress. They do not represent states or districts, they represent the UNITED STATES.

Both State Senators and Assemblymen are members of the STATE legislature. They are there representing the people of the whole state, not those of a single county or a certain group of counties.

So with the supervisors; they are COUNTY supervisors, not district supervisors.

And in city government councilmen and trustees, whether elected at large or by wards, are representatives of the WHOLE CITY.

What would we think of a director of a bank who should demand recognition of a certain group of stockholders at the expense of or to the detriment of the whole of the stockholders?

This wrong point of view, of district representation, is responsible for much uneconomy and strife in transaction of public business; and not until we turn away from it shall we have the fullest measure of peace, progress and prosperity.

SELF DRUGGING

Don't prescribe medicine for yourself unless you know the amount and kind of drugs in the preparation. Don't take unproven remedies. Don't take poisonous or habit forming drugs. In other words, don't pour medicine of which you know nothing into a body of which you know less.

These are the vital points in an article published by the U. S. Public Health Service in the Public Health Reports of February 12, 1915, which discusses the limitations of self-medication from a different point of view to that taken by either the ardent advocate of proprietary or household remedies or the person who unqualifiedly condemns all medicines.

It is obviously the right of every human being to select and take his own medicine, provided he does so without harm to himself or to others. Yet so many changes have taken place since the days when our grandmothers gave us boneset tea or molasses and sulphur as spring medicine that modern self-drugging may be followed by disastrous effects. These may be direct, as the result of harmful agents contained in the medicine itself, or by reason of an improper method of administration. The human body is a highly complex organism and in order to efficiently guard himself against possible ill effects, it is essentially necessary that an individual medicating himself be thoroughly informed as to the nature of the body processes as well as to the nature and composition of the medicaments which it is contemplated to use.

SENATOR ANDERSON THINKS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ACTED WITHOUT DUE CONSIDERATION

Santa Ana, February 19, 1915. Editor Register: On looking over the Register last evening I observed that the board of directors of our local Chamber of Commerce, seven members being present, went on record as favoring the southern routing (via San Diego) of a proposed highway in Imperial county (from El Centro to Yuma) as against the northern routing (from Riverside county line through Brawley, along the southern shore of the Salton Sea, thence through the Mammoth Wash to Yuma) and adopted a resolution requesting Assemblyman Burke and myself to support the bill for the southern route for the reason that it would force more travel to and from Imperial Valley through Orange county.

If the directors of the Chamber of Commerce are in possession of ample information on this big question then I have no suggestion to make, but if they have not such information then they should not give Mr. Burke and me instructions, and if they have such information it would have been well to have called us into consultation and given us such information; for I have been endeavoring to get such information ever since the bills were introduced, and for some time before, having been advised by the advocates of both routes that a warm contest was likely to arise—San Diego and the southern portion of Imperial county on the one side and the northern portion of Imperial county with the remainder of Southern California on the other.

I have had considerable correspondence and many interviews with interested parties and organizations, consulted state officials having to do with the matter, had maps furnished me, and yet at this time I am unprepared to take sides with either faction or to say which routing would be the better for Orange county. Therefore, in justice to myself and the cause, I felt I should make some public reference to the action of the directors of the Chamber, that the impression might not go out that I had any participation in the adoption of the resolution, and to suggest that public and private organizations should be careful of their grounds before giving instructions to their representatives in the Legislature, as we ought to feel—and for myself I do feel—the burden and influence of such advice.

During the session of 1913 I received positive advice from influential sources in my district to oppose the passage of a certain very important measure, and soon thereafter received contrary advice from the same sources. On another occasion a certain organization in my district urged me to support a measure that I was convinced was not in the interest of the people of the state, but rather in the interest of a comparatively small faction. Enough influence was brought to pass the measure. I voted against it to the displeasure of some of my friends, and the governor refused to sign it.

The Imperial Highway bills call for state appropriation of $200,000, which amount will not much more than meet one-half of the cost of the road from El Centro to Yuma, and I have not yet learned how the other one-half is to be raised. Neither have I had an estimate of the cost of the northern road, spoken of as the Brawley route, but it is alleged that Riverside county is preparing to spend $200,000 to build to the county line, and that San Bernardino county is willing to spend $300,000 for extension.

It is also claimed that the northern route would furnish a more direct road for a much greater number of people, and a much larger quantity of freight, and is much easier of construction; but relating to these and other matters further investigation will be made. Reference to a map of Southern California would help to advise as to the interest of Orange county in the two routings.

As above stated, I am not now prepared to commit myself to either road, having a good deal more to learn in order to decide which routing will be of the greatest good to the greatest number, taking all things into consideration, and that I believe would be the sentiment of our Chamber of Commerce and the people of Orange county generally.

I think the Chamber ought to reconsider its action and leave the matter an open question until further developments, if indeed it would be wise to take any action. It may be that the finance committee of the Senate and the ways and means committee of the Assembly will refuse to recommend the appropriation at all.

A joint committee of the Senate and of the Assembly have investigated the routes, and while I know the sentiment of some of the members, very little has been said up to this time, except by those sections adjacent to Imperial county.

Sincerely yours,
JOHN N. ANDERSON.

The Political Watchtower

Wanted—A secretary of the Democratic County Central Committee. Must be a Democrat. No Republican need apply. Experience in putting 'em around demanded. Apply to Committee.

Uncle Sam's postal department has some kind of a rule and regulation that makes the above reference necessary. A man has to be mighty active in politics in order to get an appointment as postmaster, but after he is in he has to look a little out. Uncle Sam says it is all right for the postmaster to be a member of the central committee of his party, but he must scrupulously avoid being an officer of that committee. It's doubtful if he even dare be a member of the finance committee of the central committee.

So Charles D. Overshiner must leave his post as secretary. He labor long and well at the job, and is now in charge of the mail shop at the northwest corner of Third and Sycamore streets at a salary of $3,000 a year. He has already written his resignation as secretary, not as postmaster—and has turned it over to Chairman H. C. Head.

It is not at all unlikely that the Democratic County Central Committee will meet very soon. It all depends upon whether or not James Fullerton of Orange, though aged 72, is accounted to be in health, disposition and activity about 60. If the age limit gets Fullerton's goat, the central committee may be called together to take a vote on recommending a successor.

And, believe me, the members of the Orange County Democratic Central Committee have been mighty popular folk these last few days. From the Watchtower we have witnessed a tremendous eruption over around Orange. Automobiles have been speeding and telephone wires have been burning up. The plaza groups have talked the thing over, and the more they talked the greater the wonder grows that there are not more candidates instead of less. There are just loads of faithful Democrats over at Orange. The number that needs rewarding is enough to stagger a congressional committee. Positions are out. While the signature of a business man of Orange is of some importance, the ones that seem to be most golden are the signatures of central committeemen.

There are almost as many candidates as there are central committeemen. There are three or four times as many candidates as there are committeemen in the third supervisory district.

Just to pass the time away, let's see who are on that committee. Here they are:

First Supervisory District—H. C. Head, C. H. Cochran, B. E. Tarver, Walter Greenleaf, E. R. Waite, Paul E. Wright, Geo. A. Edgar, C. D. Overshiner, all of Santa Ana.

Second—W. H. Bentley, Westminster; E. E. French, Huntington Beach; Sterling Price, Santa Ana; R. D. B. Third—J. H. Cook, Anaheim; W. T. Brown, Fullerton; L. P. Drake, Fullerton; R. D. 1; S. W. McCulloch, Fullerton; R. D. 2; J. J. Schneider, Anaheim.

Fourth—A. C. Fletcher, Olive; D. C. Pixley, Orange; A. J. Smiley, Orange.

Fifth—S. R. Juniper, Newport Beach; J. S. Rice, Tustin; William Wilson, Irvine.

The federal jobs around these parts that still remain in the hands of the Republicans are diminishing with rapidity. It was some months back that Tustin's office went to a Democrat. Then E. C. Thompson lost his Democratic grip on the Garden Grove office and it was not long thereafter until J. Frederick Albhorn, Democratic orator from the Mother Colony, went under the wire and took the seat at the postal desk long occupied by J. W. Duckworth at Anaheim. On Monday of this week Overshiner's shining countenance lighted up the Santa Ana postoffice, and L. L. Shaw, Republican, went into the real estate game. Yesterday T. C. H. De Lapp walked gladly into the Huntington Beach postoffice and J. M. Clippinger, Republican, vendid his way sadly out of it. That's about all the jobs left for the faithful. Just as soon as Orange gets its troubles settled there will be Fullerton only to consider. And there is no fight over there.

While Orange is wondering what the fracas is going to bring forth, Santa Ana is wondering how many candidates there will be for city clerk. There's a bunch of them, and no doubt about it. The list is now supposed to include A. P. Dresser, P. S. Trickey, E. L. Vegely, Cecil Dubois, Chas. Matern, M. L. Lane, P. L. Tople, C. S. Shaw. If we have overlooked one, we humbly beg his pardon. The oversight was not intentional. We couldn't think of any more at the moment of writing.

So far there are three avowed candidates for city marshal—three men who have set their hands to the plow and care not to turn back. They are City Marshal Jernigan, A. S. Clark and Clinton Innes. We heard Ramsey was going to run. A fellow told us today that Ramsey said he is not, and Ramsey certainly ought to know. And another rumor had it that George C. Post was to be a candidate. Possibly the success with which Russ Coleman ran for constable from a bicycle shop encouraged some of Post's friends to shove him ahead as a candidate from a bicycle shop for city marshal. But along came a fellow who ups and says that Post told him he was not now and would not later be a candidate. And Post ought to know.

There is a large and increasing probability that Ed Boynton, once upon a time policeman of Santa Ana, then a constable, and more recently a jailer for the county, will get into the race. Boynton has not given the matter all the consideration that it deserves. He has been busy planting lettuce and setting hens on his 50 by 125 ranch on East Fourth street and hasn't been down town to tell people whether or not he is going to run. Those who want to know whether or not Boynton is going to run can count him in as a possibility.

We did think that City Recorder J. A. Willson was going to run a Marathon lonesome in this campaign. We thought he was going to speed through to the tape without an opponent. But he may not travel alone, for we get it that J. P. Spaulding is thinking about trying for the job.

Today it was definitely stated that George McPhee is a candidate for reelection as trustee from the Fourth ward. We heard that V. E. Blodgett, an ex-councilman, is circulating a petition asking J. W. T. Kimball, also of the Fourth ward, to be a candidate.

2500 acres citrus land in famous Porterville district. La Gloria Rancho being subdivided into small tracts of 10 acres up. 900 acres now in 1 and 2 year old trees. Orange growers in Porterville district have three advantages over Southern California growers, viz: no fumigating or spraying; no fertilizing; more profit, averaging at least 50 cents per box, on account of early market. Early oranges command the best prices. Early oranges grow in Tulare county. Many groves in the Tulare county citrus belt pay owners a net annual profit of $800 to $1000 per acre, while the average general for the state is about $300 per acre. There is no scale nor smut. Growers in Tulare county market their crops for $75 to $125 less per acre than the cost to the Southern California grower. La Gloria Rancho soil is deep and rich. Good for lemons, olives, figs, peaches, nuts, tobacco, vegetables and general dairy products. We will build homes for responsible parties and make satisfactory payment arrangements. Will also make long time payment plan on land. Plenty of water. Average cost last year only $5 per acre. Good summer climate. Good air drainage. # PANAMA-PACIFIC EXPOSITION THROWS GATES OPEN TODAY

line. Bands, and plenty of them, took part, the idea being to have music at all times for the marchers. Many of the crack fire and drum corps throughout the state also participated in the parade, which was led by Mayor James Rolph, Jr. Dedication ceremonies and felicitations followed President Wilson's telephoned mandate. These were participated in by Secretary of the Interior Lane, President Charles C. Moore of the exposition company, Gov. Hiram Johnson of California; dignitaries of foreign nations and Mayor Rolph. The ceremonies were held on a stand erected under the celebrated Tower of Jewels. The speeches and congratulatory remarks occupied more than an hour, and then the inspection of the exposition places was on.

There are more than 60,000 separate exhibits in the big palaces, lining the long avenues of palms and tropical gardens. It cost $50,000,000 to build the exposition places alone, and the exhibits are valued at $350,000,000. In addition to forty-two foreign nations and the federal government, nearly every state in the Union sent exhibits. While Germany, Austria, England, Serbia and Belgium are not nationally represented, they have extensive exhibits in the various buildings. Other nations, like France and Japan, increased rather than diminished their participation because of the war.

The Zone represents an outlay of more than $10,000,000. It extends for nearly a mile and is lined with huge spectacular and mirth-making devices. It is the costliest amusement street ever built at a world's exposition. Some 7,000 people are employed in this section alone.

One of the most interesting features of the Zone is the miniature reproduction of the Panama Canal. Visitors sit on a revolving platform which takes them slowly around a miniature Isthmus of Panama, from ocean to ocean and back again, seeing the Panama Canal from every viewpoint and acquiring a perfect knowledge of its workings. Tiny steamboats sail around a miniature Pacific Ocean and then right into the canal and up to the Miraflores locks, where the steam mule will take them up and carry them into Miraflores Lake. Through the Calera Cut these baby ships pass and out into Gatun Lake, from whence they are taken through the Gatun locks and out into Limon Bay and the Atlantic Ocean. A railroad with real trains runs the entire length of the canal, with tunnels and cuts and hills, and with everything just as it is on the Panama railroad.

Mount Tamapais, the original, not in reproduction, but in reality, is the outstanding feature of Marin county's display in the California building. The space allotted to Marin county happened to front the bay in the direction of Mount Tamapais. With the permission of the commissioners of the building a large observation window was cut into the wall and Mount Tamapais is plainly visible and forms the center-piece of Marin county's display.

One of the best educational exhibits at the exposition is the scenic portrayal of what the Dominion of Canada has to offer. The Canadian building has the most exhaustive panorama, with mechanical devices to make it more instructive, of every item of agriculture, horticulture and mining in its territory. The best part of it is that the display is produced so that it is like attending a moving picture show of intense interest. Along each side of the building there are replicas of different regions of Canada.

Tonight the carnival spirit will have its first hilarious fling across the city and the guests will through the Zone and dance in the exposition year. At dusk a lever will be thrown, releasing a stream of electrical energy generated in the Sierras 200 miles away, illuminating the fountain and buildings by a new indirect method, the lights themselves being concealed. This is regarded as one of the great beautifying triumphs of the exposition. In addition more than 100 searchlights will be employed to add to the quiring a perfect knowledge of its

Excellent Program and Helpful Question Box; Fourth Grade 'A' Wins Banner

Yesterday afternoon at three o'clock was the time set for the meeting for the month of February of the Parent-Teacher Association of the McKinley school. About fifty mothers assembled at that time and a successful and interesting meeting was enjoyed.

A short business session was first held, during which the reading of the minutes and reports of committees were heard and several questions of importance were definitely decided. Upon urgent request from a majority of mothers, the next meeting will be a "father's meeting," in the evening. Plans are already in the hands of committees, and it goes without saying that this will be a meeting of unusual interest, and the social feature will be well taken care of.

This meeting will be some time during the second week in March.

At the close of the business session a pleasing piano number was rendered by Mr. Richard Garstang, an encore to which, was smilingly responded to.

Next followed a talk by Miss Golds-worthy. Her subjects were varied, and her usual pleasing manner won spell-bound attention from her hearers, and she was most thoroughly enjoyed.

Next followed a violin solo by Miss Lillian Norman, accompanied by Miss Rosamond Norman. Her first number was "Traumerei," and received a most enthusiastic encore, to which she also kindly responded.

The question box proved to be unusually interesting, and much real good was derived from the discussions of the questions therein.

On taking a count of the mothers, it was found that the attendance banner went to the A-4th grade room, in charge of Miss Grace White.

The Kindergarten was beautifully decorated with ferns and potted plants, and large bouquets of calla lilies and marigolds. During the social hour, which is the all-important feature of the meetings of this association, most delicious fruit punch and wafers were served.

During this hour six new names were added to the already large membership list.

Miss Newcomer, Miss White, Miss Bowers and Miss Wright were the hostesses for the afternoon.

Good-bye and God-speed. Their many friends will regret to learn that the C. A. Haynes family are shipping their household goods to Bakersfield. The Haynes family is one of Santa Ana's very best families, and will be greatly missed. Mrs. Haynes' daughter, Miss Norma Brock, has been employed as stenotypist by Chaplin & Simpson, attorneys at Bakersfield, since September, and it is that the family might be together the change is made. It is hoped and believed the Haynes family will receive as hearty welcome in their new home as that which would be given them if they should ever return to their Valencia street home in this city.

Colonial Entertainment Given by Presbyterian Ladies a Great Success

When the bevy of Santa Ana people who know, by experience, what a treat the Annual Colonial Supper, given by the Presbyterian ladies signifies, arrived at that church last evening, they were welcomed by a receiving line of charming Colonial-matrons, who directed them to the dining room below, where the famous chicken pie supper was being served.

Flags waved daily above the snowy tables centered by a bough from the proverbial cherry tree on which grew (?) a cluster of luscious cherries and, embedded in this significant trophy was a hatchet bearing the inscription: "I cannot tell a lie."

A delicious supper of chicken pie, mashed potatoes, gravy, pickles, jelly, scalloped corn, apple pie, cheese and coffee was heartily enjoyed, the efficient dining room service being in the hands of members of the Ladies Aid Society, becomingly gowned in the quaint attire of the days gone by, with lace collars, powdered curls, kerchiefs and caps. Many of the ladies wore wedding dresses worn by brides of the long ago.

Five hundred people partook of the appetizing repast, after which they visited the curio room and were delighted with what they found there. Old fashioned dishes, a woven coverlet decorated at each corner with the date 1492, the "second day" waist, worn by a bride of one hundred years ago and carpenter tools of Washington's period were among the interesting curios, while a tattered Old Glory which at one time floated from the battleship Manana in the Civil war, hung upon the wall. The burnt edges of the bullet holes in this rare heirloom, owned by Lewis Gall, have dropped out during the past few years.

Rare curios from Korea and China, contributed by Mrs. W. W. Anderson, Mrs. E. S. Donaldson and Mrs. A. R. Rowley made the "Missionary Corner" especially attractive. Korean and Chinese gods were hung upon the walls; Korean candlesticks 125 years old, very valuable on account of being specimens of a lost art, and sacred Korean curios, while a tattered Old Glory which at one time floated from the battleship Manana in the Civil war, hung upon the wall. The burnt edges of the bullet holes in this rare heirloom, owned by Lewis Gall, have dropped out during the past few years.

rean ancestral tables claimed undivided attention, while odd carved figures, Korean devil chasers, a family of Chinese dolls dressed in native attire, and beautiful pieces of exquisite Chinese and Korean needlework made a sight well worth seeing.

These various foreign curios, which made this exhibition such a decided success, came from a trio of well known missionaries in China and Korea: Miss Grace Rowley, who is stationed at Wei Hsen, Shanghai, China; Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Koons, prominent in the Seoul school, Korea, and Sadie Norse Welborn, a faithful and efficient worker at An Dong, Korea.

Mesdames W. W. Anderson, W. E. Ward, W. A. Zimmerman and Elizabeth Davis, in pretty costumes of the eighteenth century, presided over this "curiosity shop."

At eight o'clock Rev. Stevenson opened the excellent program with a few witty remarks. First of all, he settled the perplexity of the audience as to how so many chickens had ever been secured to supply the needs of the sumptuous chicken pie supper, by calling attention to the fact of the mysterious disappearance of the El Modena chickens a few days ago.

Mrs. E. L. Morrison, lovely in old Colonial costume, called on the program of "pieces," singing and selecting on the fiddle. Winsome little Miss Cynthia Shepherd, first to be called upon, charmed all with her sweet childish rendition of "The Foolish Little Maiden and Her Pretty Easter Bonnet." She also gave, with graceful illustration, "How Grandmother Danced the Minuet."

Miss Rosamond Norman, in quaint befful frock, played a beautiful melody of patriotic airs on her "fiddle," and a male quartette, dressed in George Washington attire, sang "Old Black Joe." The singing of this number by Messrs. John Hawley, John Sauer, Hugh Osborne and Professor Garstang, won such applause that they were forced to respond with two clever encore numbers.

One of the most delightful numbers of the program was given by four little people, little Misses Ruth and Frances Viera, their brother Harold, and Master Wallace Ludwig. Dressed to represent lads and lassies of the George Washington period, they gave the clever little ditty which begins with these lines:

"Where are you going, my pretty maid?"

"I'm going a-milking, Sir," she said."

"This same cunning quartette sang "Little George Washington," the solo part by little Miss Frances Viera being so expressive, sweet and clear that she was showered with enthusiastic compliments.

"Cousin Jeddiah," and an original parody by Mrs. A. R. Rowley on "Long, Long Ago," were sung by Mr. and Mrs. John Sauer and Mr. and Mrs. John Hawley, who entered into the spirit of their selections with an enthusiasm that brought forth peals of merriment from the appreciative audience.

As an appropriate closing number of the ladies' band gave patriotic selections on "Combs." Mrs. W. H. Thomas was the gay drum major, and the chorus was led by Mrs. Ella Parker, their final encore being finished with flourishing gusto.

This event, which was enjoyed by five hundred people, was proclaimed by all to be a remarkable success, and the members of the Ladies Aid, with their clever and enthusiastic workers, are to be highly congratulated.

Noted Singer to Be in Santa Ana Mrs. M. V. Budrow of Los Angeles is expected today for a week-end visit with her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Budrow, 1119 Sparrow street. Mrs. Budrow was brought into considerable prominence at the recent Grand Opera in Los Angeles. She sang with Constantino, the great tenor of the opera company, and he was so pleased with her voice that he desired to engage her as mezzo soprano for a new opera company which he is organizing for next year. He was very enthusiastic over her voice and gave her a written letter of recommendation. While in the city Mrs. Budrow will sing at the morning service of the First Congregational church tomorrow. The people of Santa Ana will be glad of this opportunity to hear the famous singer.

Mrs. Budrow has recently been appointed vocal teacher in the National Conservatory of Music of Los Angeles.

Visitors From Michigan. Mr. and Mrs. George H. Finkle, of Detroit and North Branch, Michigan, are having a visit with Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Shaw, 1515 North Main street.

Mr. Finkle is a retired business man, of the Peninsular state, and after closing out his extensive interests, except those in which he is interested with his son, he decided to follow the crowd and come to California and will, without doubt, decide to locate here or in some of the suburbs of Los Angeles.

Mr. Finkle has a brother in the Angel City, while Mrs. Finkle has cousins in Pasadena.

Yesterday they took an extensive trip throughout the environs of this city. They were driven in the automobile of Ira D. Annis, and the latter took them to every point of interest he could reach during the afternoon. The couple were much impressed with everything they saw, and the orange packing in the packing house at McPherson was a revelation to them.

Mr. and Mrs. Finkle have one son, who is in business in North Branch, Michigan. The son married Gladys, the youngest daughter of Chas. S. Shaw, with whom the couple are staying here in this city.

When Mr. Finkle has finally decided where he will locate, he may induce his son to dispose of the property in the Wolverine state and come to California.

Mars Club Camp at Poly High Last night the Mars Club held its long-postponed all-night party. About 10 o'clock some twenty figures might have been seen gathered in the athletic field, most of them equipped with necessary sleeping attire. At 11 o'clock a bonfire was kindled and the fun began. The initiation of new members afforded great sport. It consisted of wrestling matches, blind-folded boxing matches and various other amusements. While this entertainment was in progress a few dark figures might have been seen gliding about the secluded nooks, and when the hour of sleep arrived, the mission of these skulking figures was soon brought to light, for but few were able to find their blankets. Immediately posses were organized and the fruitless search began.

The "cats" were served at twelve. It was at this time that the athletic field took the appearance of an Indian camp, for each member was squatted down beside the fire busily engaged in roasting venies.

The fray waged on as the members desiring sleep sought to regain the much prized sleeping paraphernalia. Some, possessing their blankets and a great many more, concealed themselves in the shack. War was declared, and as the fort was obliged to open its gates to the enemy, a "buff house" soon took place. This resulted in unfortunate members regaining a great many lost blankets.

At last all managed to enter Dreamland and the battle was forgotten until late this morning when awakened by the gentle patting of the rain drops.

Intermediates Are Entertained The Intermediate Society of the First Baptist Church was royally entertained last night by the popular superintendent and teachers of this organization.

Decorations of fernery, red hearts and festoons of scarlet crepe paper made the church parlors especially attractive and an amusing advertisement guessing contest opened the entertainment planned for these young people.

Partners were chosen to combine their skill in composing Valentines, the last word of each line being supplied. An exciting race was also enjoyed and sleight-of-hand tricks performed by Mr. S. L. Aubin were highly entertaining.

After the game "Musical Chair," partners were chosen for refreshments consisting of ice cream, cake and mints.

As a closing feature, the superintendent of this department, Mrs. O. S. Catland, gave an inspiring talk to the company, which included sixty intermediates and the band of teachers, numbering Mrs. Z. B. West, Mrs. F. E. Chaffee, Misses Hilda McDowell and Ella Camp, Messrs. Frank Taylor, Ferris and Earl Elliot.

Webster Club The home of Miss Grace Gephart was hospitably opened to the Webster Club last evening. Beautiful decorations consisting of artistic masses of fragrant pink carnations and ferns were used.

The early part of the evening was pleasantly spent in interesting and exciting games. Later, a dainty collation was served and after an especially delightful evening the members departed.

There was no debate last night, but there is the promise of one in the near future.

Socialists Will Entertain. The Socialists of Santa Ana will hold their regular monthly social entertainment this evening in K. of P. hall. There will be music, dancing and refreshments. Socialists and friends are invited to participate.

"Brand New" Grandson Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Gordon have received the glad news of the arrival of a baby boy at the home of their son, Howard Gordon, of Perris, February 18.

The little fellow has been named Howard Samuel, and Dr. Gordon says that his friends have already begun to notice a few gray hairs.

Eminent Sir and Frater: I am directed by the Eminent Commander of Los Angeles Commandery No. 9 to convey to you his appreciation, and that of Los Angeles Commandery, of your long-to-be-remembered visit to us on the evening of February 18th.

The manner in which the work was put on and exemplified by all of your officers was truly inspiring, and he regrets more than I can convey in mere words that some of you were unable, through stress of car demands, to be present at the social half hour which followed the work of the evening and to which we had all looked forward.

Entre Nous Club Enjoys Dance Fifty couples enjoyed the delightful dancing party given last evening at Elks' hall by the Entre Nous Club.

Excellent music was furnished by the Chapman Orchestra composed of pianist, Mrs. Fred Chapman; drums, Fred Chapman; violinist, Billy Meacham, and trombone, Ray Donaldson.

It was the first intention of the club to give but one dance, each month, out on account of the popularity, the majority of the patrons are in favor of having them more frequently.

The next dance will be given Friday, March 12.

AT THE LUSKS (Contributed) The first Baptist church choir, the music committee and their friends, all numbering about thirty-five persons, were most royally entertained last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Percy K. Lusk at El Modena.

About 5:30 the choir members gathered together at the church, corner of Main and Church streets, where several automobiles were in waiting and were rapidly whirled out to the Lusk home.

Soon after their arrival a line was formed in the living room and filed through the dining room, each person taking up a large water, knife, fork, spoon and napkin, very much to the surprise and amusement of the ladies in the kitchen, were bountifully helped to a most substantial supper of Irish stew, hot rolls, coffee, etc. There was enough of it all for a small army and best of all, it was deliciously cooked.

After the substantial came ice cream decorated with tiny American flags and cake—oh, yum, yum—that cake! All kinds of it and perfectly "slobbi-alicious" with jelly, nuts, etc.

(We ate good things for more than an hour, didn't we, Blanche? Well, for fully an hour, anyway.)

Then, after the repast and a little time to catch their breath there was a musical rehearsal of several beautiful anthems, which are to be sung in the first Baptist church tomorrow morning and evening.

The rehearsal was followed by the initiation into choir membership of several of the newer members who had not previously been initiated. Fun? Barrels of it!

About 10:30 the party "busted" and all went gliding home. It certainly was some affair. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Havens, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Pearson, Mr. and Mrs. David Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Reeves, Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Van Cleave, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wiley Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harris, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. ## Federal Reserve System and Prosperity

"The business affairs of this country have been undergoing a thorough and consistent liquidation for two years. Therefore, according to nature's law of reaction and compensation, prosperity is due to return to us."

"There is a much better understanding between the representatives of our government at Washington and the leaders of our financial and industrial institutions than ever before resulting in a commendable spirit of co-operation in place of hesitation and discouragement in the past, due to adverse legislation and apparent distrust."

"The country's products were never so valuable as now. When the producing class thrives all other classes prosper."

"The European war is necessitating the development of many resources in this country hitherto dormant."

"These four reasons are stated by Dr. M. N. Avery, president of the German-American Trust and Savings Bank of Los Angeles, as to why we should confidently look forward to and expect a very prosperous future in the United States. They were set forth in an address which he delivered at the University Club to University of Michigan Alumni Association in Los Angeles. His topic was 'The Federal Reserve System and Prosperity.' He spoke in part as follows:

"The Federal reserve system is designed to protect and insure a uniform and adequate service to the public by its member banks, banks only being permitted to join the system. A prominent New York banker, an authority on both national and international finance, said:

"Next to the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States, the Federal Reserve Act may be the most important document ever placed before the people of the United States."

"The Federal Reserve Act, through a system of rediscounting, provides a means whereby its member banks can readily convert their securities into cash to meet emergencies as they arise. The Federal Reserve measure is probably as nearly workable, generally speaking, as a new political bill could be expected to be. The measure of success to be attained under the operation of the Federal Reserve System, of course, will depend in a large degree upon the honesty of the men selected as its managers. You will remember that the act is compulsory only as to national banks, although State Banks are permitted to join."

"In order to bring the Federal reserve system to its full stature of success and usefulness, it would seem that it should be made applicable to all classes of banks, in which case it would have the loyal support of every bank in the United States. We should have the cooperation of practically all banks as members, and all banks will gladly co-operate by becoming members if suitable modifications are made, permitting them to rediscount such notes and securities as they legally acquire in the usual pursuit of their business."

"Will the Federal Reserve System of banking prevent panics? It is generally believed that financial panics in the future will be reduced to the minimum; however, as long as excesses and extravagances are indulged in, as long as the principle cause and effect, action and reaction, operate in nature, cycles and crises will occur in the affairs of mankind; in other words, crises are necessary, but panics are unnecessary."

"The Federal Reserve Act requires every member bank so to conduct its affairs that, in case of emergency, it would be entitled to receive the full support of the Federal Reserve Banks. Therefore, it is fair to assume, in case of either a local or general excessive demand for money, that the prompt and natural supply of that demand will bridge over the crisis and prevent the culmination of a financial panic. It is the function of the Federal Reserve System to promptly supply such demands."

Pensions for Steel Workers

Aged and infirm former employees of the United States Steel company in the year 1914 were paid more than $500,000 in pensions according to the report of the Steel company and the Carnegie Pension fund. The total disbursement for the year in actual figures is $511,967.90, an increase over 1913 of $89,152.76. The fund was started January 1, 1911, since which time there has been a total distribution of pensions to retired employees of the steel corporation amounting to $1,575,021.33.

The Pittsburgh district leads in the amount paid in pensions to employees of the various subsidiary companies during 1914 which was $292,651.99. This includes the so-called valley district and the coke fields adjoining Pittsburgh, and covers employees in mills and mines. Cleveland and vicinity ranked next, with approximately $50,000, while in the Chicago district the amount distributed was $30,157.80. In New England the retired employees of the Worcester (Mass.) plant received pensions aggregating $39,855.56. The iron ore regions of the Northwest received approximately $20,000, and retired employees in the various transportation subsidiaries of the corporation drew $12,057.67. The balance of the fund distributed went to retired employees of various plants scattered over the country, including the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railway Company, the latter's pension list amounting to $3903.10.

There are 2521 beneficiaries of the fund at present 612 having been added and 183 discontinued through death during 1914. The average pension for each case added was $20.40 monthly, the average age of the beneficiaries was 63 years, and the average term of service a fraction under twenty-nine years. Under the rules of the fund no pension of less than $12 nor more than $100 a month is paid. All male employees who have been in the service twenty years or longer and who are 60 years or more of age are eligible to pensions. Women are eligible at the age of 50.

Railroads in Receiver's Hands

"We have more railroad mileage in receivers' hands than any other country in the world operates altogether, barring only Canada, Great Britain, Russia, France, Germany, Austria-Hungary and British East India," says the Boston Herald. "Germany which has more railroads than any other country in the world except the United States, operates only 37,995 miles, or a trifle more than double the amount of trackage operated under direction of our courts. The rate of mortality among American railroads last year was high. A total of 22 roads, representing $200,000,000 of securities and 4225 miles of road, passed into the receivers' hands. The amount of road now operated by receivers is 18,211 miles, representing $1,159,418,433 of securities. That mileage is over 7 per cent of the aggregate for the entire country."

Canned Goods Pack in 1914

One million cases of tomatoes were packed every day in the year 1914, a new high record being scored in the pack of this vegetable. The great total of 15,222,000 cases or 365,328,000 cans was the product of the canneries. This was an increase over the average yearly pack of 3,609,500 cases.

More than 235,000,000 cases of corn were also packed, to be exact 235,026,000 or 9,789,000 cases, which was an increase over 1913 of 2,506,000 cases.

In canned peas the pack was 212,328,000 cans or 8,847,000 cases, an increase over the preceding year of 70,000 cases and compared with a five years' average the increase was 2,850,200 cases.

School Savings Banks

In the public schools of the United States 217,000 pupils have on deposit in the school savings banks more than one and a quarter million dollars. To Belgium is accorded the honor of originating the school savings bank system. Prof. Laurent, of Ghent, Belgium, in 1873, began the work among school children "for amelioration of poverty and the improvement of individual and national life." A native of Belgium, John Henry Thiry, put the school savings banks on a permanent footing in the United States. Mr. Thiry established banks in Long Island City, N. Y., and the New York schools under Superintendent Maxwell, have been among the most successful advocates of the system.

Raisin Production in California

One hundred and eighty million pounds of raisins were raised in California during the year 1914, according to the report of the State Viticultural Commissioner made public this week. The market value of the season's product was $7,500,000, while the net profit to the growers was $1,500,000. An unprecedented increase is reported for 1914 over 1913, when the output totaled 129,074,000 pounds, a gain of 51,000,000 pounds. The production of Muscats for raisin purposes was greatest, 60,000 tons. The average selling price was 4 cents per pound. Thompson seedless were second with 18,000 tons selling at 4 1/2 cents per pound. Sultanias netted 9000 tons, and all other varieties 3000 tons, making 50,000 tons for the season.

Iron Cross on Iron Ring

In aid of the Germans in the war both at home and abroad those who cannot give money give jewelry, particularly the women. In recognition of this the Iron Cross is given on an Iron ring. In New York the iron ring bearing the iron cross, one of which was received in Los Angeles this week, carries this inscription in German:

"I give in this hard times in gold for this iron for proof to my old Vaterland my true loyalty."

The Iron Cross is the seal of the ring and opposite the cross are the letters "D. H. G. N. Y." meaning the German help society of New York.

Revenue and Customs Receipts

A heavy increase in internal revenue receipts for this district for January, 1915, over those of January, 1914, is shown in figures given out by John P. Carter, collector of internal revenue. The receipts for January, 1915, were $146,585.49 compared with $77,585.74 for January, 1914.

For January, 1915, the customs receipts for the district of Southern California were $37,025.93; according to John B. Elliott, collector of customs. The receipts for January, 1914, were $73,316.47 and those for January, 1913 were $86,133.45.

Must Refund War Tax

The treasury must refund $2,000,000 inheritance tax collected under the Spanish war revenue act on estates of persons who died before the repeal of the tax, but whose estates were not disturbed under state law until after the repeal.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

Tomatoes are at a premium in Los Angeles. The Mexican situation at this time is preventing receipts of any of this product from that section. Five years ago the production of winter tomatoes in the state of Sinaloa was entered into on a large scale, backed principally by local capital. For two years it was a great success, but eventually war conditions caused trouble and very few tomatoes were received last year and less are expected this season. Two cars of Florida stock have been shipped here, but did not prove very satisfactory. The last car was in poor condition and it is doubtful whether further attempts will be made to import the product from there. The result will be the lack of tomatoes in many of the hotels and cafes of the city as well as on the tables of private consumers. It will be two months before any local tomatoes are obtainable, save a few that may be grown under glass, the same as cucumbers, which are now selling up to $3 a dozen.

There was no change in the fruit market. The demand for citrus fruit has been excellent and shows a little increase over last week, due to the great number of arrivals here. Apples are moving pretty well, but most dealers are skeptical as to moving all on hand in the storage houses at this time. Bellefleurs are still selling from 75 to 90 cents and numerous other varieties can be brought around $1 a box on very fine stock. Quotation 50 per cent lower than last year, or for a number of years past.

Local case count eggs declined to 22 cents a dozen on heavier arrivals.

GAS MINIMUM OPPOSED BY BOARD HEAD

What Will Be Effect Here of Passage of the Public Utilities Act?

There is little question but that Santa Ana authorities will fight any steps that the Southern Counties Gas Company may take to get the minimum charge per month raised from fifty cents to $1.

At a meeting of the Orange trustees Thursday gas company officials stated that they intend to ask the State Railroad Commission for the raise, affecting Santa Ana, Orange, Fullerton and Anaheim.

Mayor Frank E. of Santa Ana said today that the city trustees of Santa Ana are already on record against a $1 minimum.

"There are lots of poor people who do not use $1 worth of gas a month, and they ought not to be made to pay for more than they use," said Mayor E. today.

"Some time ago representatives of the gas company went before the Santa Ana trustees and asked for permission to raise the minimum from fifty cents to a dollar. We absolutely refused to grant the permission. The officials also asked to be allowed to add a penalty if bills were not paid by a certain day of the month. We could not see that there was any more reason to add a penalty to a gas bill than there is to add one to a grocer's bill."

Orange is in a different situation from Santa Ana. That city voted to put its rate-fixing powers into the hands of the State Railroad Commission, and the gas company could proceed at once to file its petition there.

The question of the effect of the passage of the Public Utilities act, which was No. 28 on the ballot last November and which carried by a big majority in the state, is one of considerable interest to the cities of this county. Since Orange's rates are already in the hands of the railroad commission, Orange will not meet with any change so far as control is concerned.

Santa Ana adheres to fixed gas and electric rates by ordinance, but it will soon be under the commission's control.

The Public Utilities Act is not yet in effect. It is necessary that it be confirmed by the legislature, and ordinarily would not go into effect until ninety days after the adjournment of that body. However, with Los Angeles and some other large cities due to fix rates on April 1, it is proposed to hasten the passage of the measure early in March as an emergency measure so that it can go into effect immediately.

So far as the electric rates are concerned, Santa Ana's control over them will be lost when the Public Utilities Act goes into effect. Under the law a municipality that has not voted its rate-fixing powers to the state commission can pass an ordinance in April to go into effect in June for changing rates. If the time passes without a rate being fixed, the old rate sticks. The new state law does away with this entirely.

"As I understand the law," said W. L. Deimling, local manager of the Edison company, "our rates will be fixed by the State Railroad Commission when this new measure goes into effect, as it will undoubtedly do in a few weeks or months. The only contract we have with the city is for furnishing juice for street lighting and the city's use in its buildings."

At the meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce at Yorba Linda last month a resolution was passed asking the State Railroad Commission to make an investigation and readjustment of the electric rates in this county.

LOCAL INSURANCE MAN GIVES TALK

Mac O. Robbins delivered a lecture on "Insurance" before the Orange County Business College student body on Thursday. To review the chapter on an important subject which the law class had just completed. The lecture was both interesting and helpful and showed Mr. Robbins to be well informed along the line of his special work—insurance.

The college literary society had a very enjoyable meeting Tuesday evening. The mock debate on the "Peanut Trust" was the chief attraction, with feasts in legerdemain by Mr. Beebe, a local magician and legerdemainist of no mean ability, coming in as a close second. This society is creating and cultivating a splendid school spirit among the student body and is open to all attending and past students, and graduates of the school. It meets on the first and third Tuesdays of each month at 7 o'clock.

WINTER DOUBLES WORK

—In summer the work of eliminating poisons and acids from the blood is helped by perspiration. In cold weather, with little outdoor work or exercise to cause sweating, the kidneys have to do double work. Foley Kidney Pills help overworked, weak and diseased kidneys to filter and cast out of the blood the waste matter that causes pains in sides or back, rheumatism, lumbago, stiffness of joints, sore muscles and other ills resulting from improper elimination. Sold by all druggists.—Advertisement.

THE LIVER REGULATES THE BODY A SLUGGISH LIVER NEEDS CARE

Someone has said that people with Chronic Liver Complaint should be shut up away from humanity, for they are pessimists and see through a "glass darkly." Why? Because mental states depend upon physical states. Bilelessness, Headaches, Dizziness and Constipation disappear after using Dr. King's New Life Pills. 25c at your Druggist—Advertisement.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the season's rainfall, had exceeded that of each season since 1908-09 by 2.61 inches, this season's precipitation being, according to the records kept by S. Hill & Son, 17.28 inches.

Each succeeding shower makes the beet, grain and bean grower more impatient for a season of dry weather. The ranchers are anxious to get their crops in and are wishing for sunshine to help those crops that have already been planted.

Reports from some of the ranchers are to the effect that barley is suffering from lack of sunshine. It is stated that some of the barley is turning yellow and is not nearly as thriving in appearance as the grain men would like.

The rainfall at Orange at 8 o'clock this morning was 123 inches, a season total of 17.34 inches.

Following is the table of seasonal rainfall since 1908:

1908-09	15.44
1909-10	12.62
1910-11	12.31
1911-12	7.86
1912-13	8.44
1913-14	14.67

At El Modena the storm total was 40 inches at 2 o'clock today, making a total of 17.81 inches.

Orange picking operations are being delayed again, though fruit was in many of the orchards severing a few days this week. The citrus men are equally anxious as the grain and bean men for a season of sunshine, being desirous not only of picking their navels but plowing and working their orchards as well.

SCHOOL TEAMS LOOKING GOOD

Prospects for Baseball and Track Please Coach; Concert Next Friday

Since the recent rains the track and baseball men have settled down to a steady improvement. They are fast, sure and full of spirit, showing that they have profited by their short rest. Both teams are well supported. One of the incoming Freshmen is already out for baseball and this should be an example to the other underclass men to get in athletics at the start.

In track those best in the sprints are Criddle, Udder, Plavan, Hill and McVay. In the long distance Hill, Halderman, Christenson, McCarter and Wilkinson excel.

E. Plavan, P. Plavan and Criddle get over the low hurdles the best, and Hamaker, Criddle and Graves are flying over the tall sticks.

L. Keeney, R. Keeney, Robinson, Winans and Packard take the points in the pole vault and Wilkinson, E. Plavan and Burkett in the high jump.

E. Plavan, Burkett, Packard Trago and Johnson are out for the broad jump and Irvine, Keeney, Robinson, Best and Oertly cover the other field events.

In baseball the candidates for the infield are Parker, Cannon, Best, Criddle, Biggs, Irvine, Towle, Carver, Brown and Thompson, while Leake, Oertly, Elliott, Meyers, O. Morrison and Stevens are fighting for the outfield positions. The team shows much talent and will make baseball a live school sport this year.

The team will meet the Sherman Indians at Riverside Saturday in the first game of the season. The Indians have a strong team but Coach Hall thinks that if the weather permits extreme practice he will give them a hard tussle.

The Commercial Law Class visited the courthouse a short time ago to see how the records are kept. They also visited the county jail, where they saw how the prisoners live and how their pictures and finger prints are taken.

Archib Stuke, a commercial student, has been detained from school because of trouble with his eyes.

Thomas Robertson was absent from school Monday on account of being in Los Angeles on business.

It is reported that Bill Cole went a little faster by auto than the law allows recently and was caught.

Thursday the Board of Control held a meeting, at which several bills were passed. Marvin Morrison's resignation as editor-in-chief of the Ariel was accepted and Ralph Chase was appointed to take his place.

Friday noon a meeting of the Board of Control was held, at which Biggs resigned as song leader and Verne Smith and George Oertly resigned as well leaders. Marie Harris was appointed song leader, while Bazill Smith and Victor Burrell were appointed as well leaders.

Paul Grove has dropped school in order to go to work.

Glee Club Contest

The Poly glee clubs will give a concert next Friday night, February 26, at 8 o'clock. This entertainment promises to be exceptionally fine as the musical sections of the school have been well trained under Miss Ely's able supervision.

The main feature of the program is Faust's cantata, for which four soloists have been obtained. These soloists are the best that could be procured for the occasion. They are: Miss Isgrig, soprano, from Los Angeles; Mrs. Struck, contralto; Mr. Miles, tenor, and Mr. Maurice Phillips, bass, the latter three being local residents.

In addition to this cantata, the girls' and boys' glee clubs will each give three numbers, and the orchestra will also give several selections.

ALLIES SHELLING TURKISH FORT

is being patrolled by a number of German submarines, but owing to the censorship the details and the points where they are located are withheld.

Strong representation from Norway as a result of the torpedoing of the Norwegian steamer Beldra is expected today. Indications are that the Scandinavian nations will act in concert and expect to seek the co-operation of the United States.

"There is no attempt on the part of British officials to disguise the seriousness of the situation from the standpoint of neutral nations."

Lusitania in New York; Flies British Flag All Way Across the Atlantic

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—The liner Lusitania arrived today from Liverpool. The officers say she flew the British flag during the entire voyage. The vessel sighted no German submarines. It is reported a British cruiser kept the Lusitania in sight all the way across the Atlantic. This, however, the officers denied.

Berlin War Head Admits French Successes North of Perthes; Fighting Violent

BERLIN, Feb. 20.—French successes north of Perthes are admitted by the war office in an official statement this afternoon. The French after attacking along the entire line were able to break through the advanced German trenches at certain points. Fighting is violent. It is declared the enemy was repulsed at some points but that the battle still rages at others. The losses on both sides are heavy.

The fact that the British have established a new base in the north has apparently been communicated to the Germans by airmen and new attacks have been directed at the base by the enemy as a result.

Airmen on both sides are showing great activity.

It is believed that by the middle of March general pressure will be applied to the German lines by the allies in an effort to feel out the strength of the enemy, preparatory to the opening of a big advance in the spring.

Reports of German successes in the north and in the Champagne and Argonne districts are contradicted. It is declared the last ten days' developments have been favorable to the allies.

The French artillery is said to be becoming more and more effective while the German artillery is losing its power. The German night attacks, it is also said, no longer are delivered with the force noted earlier in the war. This is believed to be due to the increasing number of raw recruits.

Official Text of British, German Notes Received By State Department

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The State Department received today the official texts of Germany's note replying to the American protest regarding the extension of the war zone and the British reply to the notes regarding the use of neutral flags and the placing of the steamer Wilhelmmina before a prize court.

Norwegian Steamer Hits Mine in North Sea and Sinks; Crew May Be Lost

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 20.—The Norwegian steamer Bjørke struck a mine in the North Sea today and sank. The fate of the crew is not known here.

The Bjørke was laden with coal from Leith. There is no doubt the mine was planted by the Germans. As a result of the disaster protests are expected to be forwarded from Norway. A trawler near the accident declared that the mine was so powerful that the explosion almost tore the vessel in two.

Three-heat irons are easily kept at any desired heat. There is also a great saving of electricity while the medium or mild heat is being used.

Three-heat irons can be easily and quickly changed to either of the three heats.

GIANT BEET FROM WESTMINSTER FARM

A mangel wurtzel beet, eleven months old and weighing 84½ pounds was brought to the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon by H. B. Anderson, a dairyman of Westminster. The beet is a stock beet and was raised without irrigation on Anderson's 32-acre ranch. The beet seed was planted April 1, 1914 in the same rows with corn, the roasting ears from the stalks of which were fed to the stock on Anderson's dairy farm.
